[illegible]

It appears to be predominantly folks from the Met, whom I already know.

Any BDCP updates?

Bob:

What follows is the group's adopted advocacy agenda on water-related issues. For some of them, the EPA won't have jurisdiction but others do. I am providing the entire list so you will have some context for the meeting. I hope this helps.

Bay-Delta and State Water Project Improvements

Support administrative and legislative action to maintain the Bay Delta Conservation Plan (BDCP) schedule to identify the necessary conveyance and ecosystem improvements in order to meet the coequal goals of water supply reliability and ecosystem restoration in the Delta.

Regional Water Resource Management

Support legislation that will enable the development of new local and regional water resources through the authorization of federal programs for recycled water, desalination, groundwater recovery and water use efficiency. This legislation should provide local and regional utilities with the opportunity to compete for grants to fund energy and water conservation projects as well as other programs the help diversify, extend and improve the quality of regional water supplies.

- Support amendments to the Water Resources Development Act to advance the development of water recycling projects to stretch limited water supplies and improve regional reliability
- Support authorizing EPA's WaterSense program and other federal incentive programs that promote Water Use Efficiency.
- Restore right of states and local governments to establish Property Assessed Clean Energy Programs (PACE) that facility energy and water conservation.

Water Quality Protection

Support initiatives and federal funding to improve water quality and protect water resources from various constituents including but not limited to boron, chromium, nitrate, perchlorate, salinity, and uranium, as well as constituents of emerging concern, such as pharmaceuticals and personal care products.

Control Invasive Species

Support actions and funding for control and eradication of invasive species, including quagga mussels.

Energy / Hydropower Initiatives

- Support legislation that provides renewable energy credits (RECs) for both small and large hydroelectric facilities, irrespective of the facility's nameplate generating capacity.
- Support legislation that would increase or remove the current 40 MW limitation on conduit hydroelectric facilities that can apply for an exemption from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's (FERC's) standard hydroelectric licensing provisions.

Infrastructure Finance

Support tax-credit financing, tax-exempt municipal bonding and other funding mechanisms to reduce the cost of water supply and other essential infrastructure projects

Hi Doug

Any key EPA items you feel the group would like to discuss relative to water will help us be better prepared.
Looking forward to it.

Doug,

Great chatting with you. Im looping in Teri who coordinates the Deputy Administrator's office. Teri is the best person to nail down the particulars for the March 6th - 4pm meeting.

Best, Jose

Hi Jose:

My name is Doug Boxer, a long-time friend of Seth Oster's. I am helping the Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce arrange it's upcoming two-day Access DC trip. About 150 business, labor and elected leaders from the LA Area will come to DC to meet with Administration officials, Members of both Houses of Congress and legislative aides around issues that matter to Los Angeles. Water is one of those issues.

Last year, a small group from LA (about 10 people) had a great meeting with Administrator Jackson. That meeting focused more on sustainability than water. This year, the Chamber would again like to meet with her but focused on the water side. The available times to meet are 3-5 pm on March 6 or 2-4 pm on March 7.

Jose, I realize we are about a week away from this meeting. So, I am happy to get on the phone to discuss more details with you. If Administrator Jackson is out of town, let me know as we do have a back up request if needed. Thanks. Hope to talk with you soon.
